University of Manchester
B Sc (Hons) 1st Class Joint Honours Biology & Geology

Angela Jane Speakman (31/10/1966–28/2/2003) attended the University of Manchester from October 1991 to July 1994, where she studied Biology and Geology, graduating with a First Class Honours degree. This prize was set up in treasured memory of Angela by her family and friends. Angela was generous in her friendship, joyfully sharing her energy and enthusiasm to help and inspire her fellows to achieve. The prize is awarded annually to the student who shows the greatest aptitude in Palaeontology.
